

PRESS ROOM TO CLASSROOM

At the JJB stadium there is an education centre where many young apprentices come and learn about sport.

This is now a compulsory course which leads to an NVQ in Sport. It is not all sport for the lads though - they have to study subjects such as English, Maths and Science, just like a normal college course. The apprentices work five days a week just like a school week and have breaks during the day. To make all this possible the club hires a private tutor.
